OCD CONCURRENCE

OCD has a Microfilm Team [REDACTED] which, if on schedule, should be copying important segments of [REDACTED] records [REDACTED] today. A time lag of one month is anticipated before these records will be available on microfilm in CIA, Washington. Owing to the reproduction difficulties of the Agency, there will no doubt be a considerably longer lag before the records can be put in report form and collated. It appears justifiable, in view of the importance of [REDACTED] problem, to take advantage of [REDACTED] special knowledge and enlist his support in preparation of the desired study. The study can be produced far more easily, and more rapidly, from the original records than from the data which are being microfilmed for safe-keeping.
